The "Citizens Movement to Impeach Bush/Cheney" was formed in Olympia in 2006 after a showing of "How To Impeach the President". They conduct public education campaigns, weekly sidewalk protests, and lobby local, state and federal elected officials to encourage them to adopt resolutions calling for an impeachment investigation. In February 2007 they hosted a town hall meeting that brought 850 people to hear experts Elizabeth de al Vega, David Lindorff and Ray McGovern speak on impeachment. They are currently engaged in a petition drive and support House Resolution 333, which calls for the impeachment of Dick Cheney, as the necessary first step in restoring the Constitution.
